

~~~MEET A MEMBER MONDAY!~~~

Meet Ed McMahon, CPM®, a new to the Chicago chapter but not new to IREM member. Ed was most recently affiliated with the Milwaukee chapter but is now back in the Chicago area. He is currently the Vice-President Specialty Asset Management at Bank of America wherein he manages various partnerships within trusts that hold real estate, farm and ranch land, timber and mineral rights, and other investments.

Ed was originally drawn to IREM in pursuit of the CPM designation, which he has had now for more than 15 years and truly enjoys the networking opportunities that being a member of IREM offers.

Ed shared that he has spent his career mostly with financial institutions originating real estate loans and investments, and as an asset and portfolio manager of them. His role with Bank of America is a great match for his broad experience, curiosity about other asset types, and commitment to serving fiduciary clients with integrity and diligence.

FUN FACT about Ed: He wasn't on a real estate or business path at all when he started out. His undergraduate degree was in History with a concentration in Modern European history.

Next time you see Ed at a chapter event be sure to say HELLO!
