SECURITY AS A SERVICE

www.kastle.com

This IREM Chicago Industry Partner Spotlight profile features our valued chapter partner Kastle Systems.

Kastle Systems is your single-source technology provider, manufacturer, and managed service provider for the commercial and multi-family real estate industry. Whether it's access control, visitor and parking management, video surveillance, or intercom solutions, Kastle Systems is responsible for the life cycle of the customer relationship from design to installation to management and support of all hardware and software. And it's all done by a Kastle employee; nothing is outsourced.

The typical business doesn't have in-house security experts to run and maintain access control and video surveillance platforms, so these tasks either get assigned to someone as a secondary responsibility or fall through the cracks. With Kastle you have dedicated experts ensuring your security is monitored, updated and operating smoothly so you can focus on running your business. Kastle doesn't just sell systems and leave the rest to you. We give you security as a service

Kastle Systems serves millions of Americans across the nation in their daily workplace routine and we've been studying their keycard, fob and KastlePresence® app access data across 2,600 buildings and 41,000 businesses. We're analyzing the anonymized data to identify trends in how Americans are returning to the office.
