🔧 High Rise & Residential
Window Cleaners

This IREM Chicago Industry Partner Spotlight profile features Squeegee Squad Chicago West Loop.

Squeegee Squad provides professional window cleaning services for commercial, high-rise, and residential properties throughout Chicago. Our team also supports property managers with glass restoration, façade maintenance, waterproofing solutions, and rooftop anchor inspections in partnership with Expert Summit Anchors. These services help ensure buildings remain safe, compliant, and visually pristine while simplifying exterior maintenance for property teams.

Founded in 1994 by two college brothers, Squeegee Squad has grown into a nationally recognized window cleaning & exterior maintenance company with locations across the United States. The company expanded into high-rise window cleaning in 2007 and later into building restoration services such as glass restoration, waterproofing, caulking, and elastomeric coatings. Today, Squeegee Squad cleans more buildings across the country than any other company in America. As part of our safety-focused services, we help property managers maintain fall-protection systems—rooftop anchors should typically be visually inspected annually and recertified every 10 years to ensure compliance and worker safety.

Team Spotlight: Axel, Project Manager

A key part of delivering consistent service across our territory is our Project Manager, Axel. He oversees day-to-day operations, coordinates project planning, and ensures our technicians are fully prepared before work begins. Axel also leads rope-access safety training for our team and maintains the high safety standards required for working at height. For many property managers, Axel is the first person they meet during a building walkthrough and often the last to leave once a project is complete, ensuring every project meets expectations.

A Note from the Owner

As the owner of Squeegee Squad- Chicago West Loop, I value building strong relationships within the property management community. Outside of work, I enjoy golfing and playing tennis, and I plan to attend many of the IREM and IFMA golf outings this year. I'm always interested in opportunities where professionals can connect outside the office, and I'd love to see more events—especially tennis mixers—that combine networking with a bit of friendly competition.

“Working at height requires absolute confidence in your safety systems and teams. Our goal is to help property managers maintain buildings that are not only visually pristine, but also safe and fully compliant.” — Cameron Weaver, Owner
